

Early Mid-Acts Leaders of the 1920s: J.C. O'Hair

Historical Challenge of J.C. O'Hair

- No known chronology.
- Few works are dated.
- Oral tradition—legendary information.
- Possible tampering by those who are reprinted O'Hair's work.

- Piece together chronology based upon clues left in O'Hair writings.
- One key clue are the advertisements in the back of O'Hair pamphlets. These help establish a relative chronology.
- Understand is fluid and changing as more information comes to light

At some point subsequent to his Indy Insight in 1920 Mr. O'Hair wrote Unscriptural Cathedrals he which he clearly states "I have always believed and taught that the Church began at Pentecost. . ." Seems he did not immediately begin the church in Acts 13 with Paul.
